
Blocked, over-burdened?

A change of school can open up new perspectives.

of Switzerland

Valuable learning for life

Catholic Schools of Switzerland are private boarding schools and day schools for girls and boys in all language regions of Switzerland. Our members cover all school levels of the Swiss educational system. The orientation on Christian values, self-reflection and responsibility are central competencies in our educational work. Instruction is of very high quality and guarantees transition to further education in colleges or apprenticeships.

The combination of tradition and modernity, openness to the world and roots in the church community is the hallmark of Catholic Schools.

Considering a change of school?

Parents sense when their child does not feel well in a school. When blocks, obstacles and problems endure new approaches are needed. A standstill is not a path to progress.
Together with parents we discuss the specific situation and consider the potential for a change of school. This process requires careful deliberation to come to a decision the head and the heart can say, «Yes» to.

Frequent reasons for a change of school are a wish for ...

... a clear, familial and individual school concept or environment.
... clear daily structures and accompaniment in addition to class instruction.
... more individual accompaniment for children and adolescents who have problems with motivation, longer absences due to illness, experience of mobbing, or other special situations.
... coaching for under- or over-challenged children or adolescents.
... individual furtherance for especially talented students and elite athletes.

What to consider when thinking about a change of school:

– Take action early when problems occur at school. Speak with your child. Listen carefully to what they say and ask questions. Avoid giving advice if it's not requested.
– First, find out about alternative school options, and then present these to your child, without expecting direct feedback from him or her.
– Compare schools. Take time to visit them and for discussions with school administrators.
